Soviets drop charges U.S. was involved in Moro death

Moscow (Reuters)—Following protests by Italian politicians, Soviet media have dropped allegations of involvement by U.S. intelligence services in the 1978 assassination of Aldo Moro, a former Italian premier.

The charges, made Sunday by the official Soviet news agency in a general indictment of alleged subversive activities by the CIA throughout the world, drew denials by politicians in Rome and criticism from the Italian Communist Party.
